EDISON'S NEW INFANT.

An Artificial Baby Made to Walk, Talk and Play.

Electricity the Moving Cause-Object, to Supply the Wants of Childless

NEW YORK, June 20 .- Macon, the correspondent of the Virginia City Chronicle, claims that he has seen the wenderful invention a description of which he sends his paper. His account runs as follows: Just prier to Mr. Edison's removal from Menlo l'ark to this city, he completed and successfully operated his mechanical baby. For some months past Mr. Edison has been devoting a portion of his time to the invention of this household requisite in order to meet the wants of those who are unfortunate in that which is written, "Thou shalt multiply and replenish the earth."

"It is not unfrequently the case," said Mr. Edison, "that the husband and wife are 'at home' to a select number of friends, and in that home where children are unknown, they are 'borrowed' from a neighbor, for, as you know," addressing a large number of goodly mothers present, "no household is complete without the presence of a baby. It was with a view to meet the wants of this class of unfortunate wedded pairs that I set to werk and completed what you see before you-a mechanical 'infant.'

"There arises a question," centinued Mr. G., "as to whether all persons would want the same sized baby—that is, as you see my smallost one there is my creeping baby-so I have overcome this obstacle by making two sizes, one to represent a baby nine months old, and the other, two years. Now," concluded Mr. Edison, " if you will all stand close to the wall and make the floor clear, I will show you what my little creeper can do."

Accordingly the floor was cleared and the little wax-faced midget was taken from its place on the table, and laid upon its back upon the floor. The battery wires connecting it were charged with a powerful current of electrleity. All was quiet for a half minute, when the baby rolled over en its face and uttered a faint cry of "Mamma." Almost instantly it gathered itself up on its hands and knees and started to creep across the floor. Twice It raised itself up on one hand and rubbed its eyes, saying, "Mamma, mamma;" creeping a little further it stopped, buried its head very naturally in its arms on the floor and cried quite lustily. At this stage the mechanism reverses it and a chair was placed in front of it; very soon it slowly got upon its feet, | chair and started, pushing it across the floor, laughing its infantile laugh with all the grace imaginable. Reaching the opposite side of the room it stopped, sat down and rolled over on the floor and apparently went to sleep. It was too natural and lifelike, and it certainly was astounding to the spectators. There was momentary silence and the cries of " wonderful! wonderful!" broke from the lips of all present, and one goodly matron cried "lmsh, lmsh, you might wake the little sleeper.'

After considerable talk was indulged in by those present, the floor was again cleared, and the "two-year-old" taken, seated in a little chair, and the battery-wires connected. It was not long until it commenced its little pranks about the room. Its first duty seemed to beafter giving it the let ered blocks-that of sitting down on the thor and spelling its nawe, "A-l-v-a," out of the box. He did this nicely. After repeating the little prayer of " Now I lay me down to sleep," it jumped up and min to the door and said "tome in," after which it returned to the blocks, built a pyramid and then tumbled them over, laughing heartily aud very naturally. A toy piane was placed before it, and after lowering a few chords, it lisped in childish accents the Sunday-school song, "Josus of Nazereth is passing By." It was then given a doll baby, and, taking it motherlike in its little arms, it crossed the floor to a miniature cradle, and placing lt beneath a little coverlet, it sang a sweet and plaintive hillaby, and to all intents and purposes, rocked the silent chinaheaded thing to sleep. Shortly after this it gave a "yawn" and said "mamma, I'se s'eepy," and laid down, and ciosing its little blue eyes, was, seemingly lest in the revelry of childish dreams. The performances of "Alva" are truly wonderful and almost beyond the belief of oven those who witnessed the evolutions. The machinery used to accomplish part of the werk, is very simple, yet to some extent complicated. The power of speech is obtained by delicate membrane fisure tubes which act in unison with twelve sets of finely constructed reeds, the whole worked by the action of little bellows, operated by electricity and clock-works. The momentum of the body is formed by elevators and weights, propelled by spring power. When the machinery is put in motion and the electric fluid is sent into the figure, each part of its funetions are operated just the same as the hands on a dial. It requires expertness to arrange each department accurately-as, placing the blocks the correct distance from the chair-knowing just the time to place the toy piano in frent of it, etc.; all these can seen be learned after a few trials. Mr. Edison is highly pleased with his success. One great advantage in them you need no nnrso, and only use them when in a baby humor. Mr. Edison has given a contract to one of our leading doll firms for 100 babies.

FOOD FRAUDS.

Adulterations Found in "Pure" Tea, Coffee and Spices.

CHICAGO, June 20 .- Prof. J. H. Long, of the Chicago Medical College, visited all the grocery shops on State street, between 12th and 26th, a short time since, and purchased at each a small parcel of cheap grade tea mounce where the show will be held.

and another of coffee, all of which he ana-

The tea in almost every case was adulterated, fully 10 per cent of it being wild rose and willow leaves, which, the professor says, are favorite material for adulteration, owing to their similarity to the tea leaf. The adulteration is done principally previous to the shipment of the tea. the wild rose and willow leaves being mixed in the chests along with the gennine article, so that by the time the consignment has reached the dealer it is pretty hard to detect the adulteration otherwise than by an elaborate analysis.

The adulteration of cotlee takes place in the store of the retailer. It can only be done in the case of coffee being sold ready ground, as nothing has been found yet to resemble the genuine berry. The samples of ground codes numbered by Prof. Long were found, with very few exceptions, to contain a certain quota of chopped-up peas, the adulteration in each sample varying from 7 to 15 per cent.

Various kinds of spices came in fer a share of Prof. Long's attention, and were found to be more or less adulternted. In ginger were discovered secretions of wheat from, corn-meal, cayenne pepper, mustard husks, and ground rice. The percentage of adulteration in some cases was as high as

One package of alleged pepper was found to be merely "pepper dust" (the sweepings from pepper warehouses), and ten others were identifully mixed with pen, wheat and out flour. Of eight samples of musterd examined, three were pure and five adulterated. The latter were mixed with flour, and colored with tumerie. The favorite adulteration in cloves seemed to be ground coconnit shell and scorched meal, one of the samples being adulterated to the extent of tifty per cent.

Little or no real cinnamon is sold in Chicago, the substitute being "cassia bark," which has the appearance of ciunamon, though it is far from being the same thing. The store-keepers are not even content with practicing this deception, as several of the samples of so-called emnamon tested by Prof. Long were found to contain quantities of cocoanut shells and cayenne pepper.

SMUGGLED CHINESE.

The Facilities for Putting Mongolians Across the Northern Border.

WASHINGTON, June 20 .- It has been repeatedly claimed by people on the l'aelfic Const that Chinese laborers in British Columbia were smuggled across the frontier in violation of the act of May 6, 1882, excluding Chinese immigrants from the United States, and at the request of Representatives Resecrans and Berry, of California, and Senator Jones, of Nevada, Secretary Folger ordered a special agent to the frontier to inquire and make a report on the number, calling and location of the Chinese in British Columbia, and the possibility of their entoring this count y as charged. This report has just been received. It places the number of Chinese in British Columbia at 10,000. They are chiefly employed in the construction of the Canadian l'acifie railway, at the fisheries and at the mines, about 6,000 coolies being engaged in railroad construction alone. The agent says it is possible, but not likely, that if the British Columbia Chinamen taxed their ingenuity, a landing by canee or small sail boat could be effected on the sparsely settled islands dotting Paget sound, or in Washington Territory by crossing the Straits of San Juan de Fuen, but any such attempt, to be successful, would require the co-operation of white people, which is not likely to be extended unless a radical change of sentiment takes place on the Chinese immigration question. A straggler seeking entrance by the islands would certainly be discovered, and before he could reach a settlement, or if the entrance was attempted by crossing the straits, a range of mountains extending along the north coast of Washington Territory would prove an insuperable barrier.

The facilities for land travel are confined to five trails, but these are all guarded by mounted custom officers except that leading from Fort Hope. B. C., to the Skagit mines in Washington Territory. The whites there are hostile to the Chinese, and would promptly notify the authorities. The contractors engaged in the construction of the Canadlan Pacific assured the agent that their only losses of Chinese laborers are by death, none by desertion. The agent admits that a few adventurous stragglers may evade the eustoms officers, but he says no organized effort to cross the frontier is apprehended until the completion of the Canadian Pacific, and the men engaged thereon are compelled to seek work elsewhere. The road cannot be finished however, until 1886 or 1887. The agent claims that having paid close attention to the opportunities and possibilities of infraction of the Chinese act since its passage, he can, without fear of truthful contradiction, aver that no Chinese from British Columbia have entered Washington Territory or Oregon without the production of proof of professional or mercantile avocation, or proof of previous residence in the United Statee, as required by the regulations of the Treasury Department. To insure redoubled vigilance the agent recommends that the department issue special instructions to the commander of the revenue cutter Wolcott to exercise special vigilance in preventing the unauthorized entrance of Chinese by water. The present force of custom house efficers hs considers ample to deal with the Chinose

THE DUDE'S QUEEN.

Littian Russell's Mamma Defends the Eccentricities of Her Dashing Daughter.

NEW York, June 20 .- Henderson, of the Standard Theater, who holds a contract with Lillian Russell, has taken such steps as will prevent her singing in England after September.

Several amusing facts have turned up relative to the departure of "Mr. and Mrs. Salomon and maid." It appears that Salomon pald for the passage with a check of a New York firm for $130, which on presentation was marked "N. F." and returned-The Monarch line officials were alarmed and were on the point of cabling for his arrest, but the fellowing day the check was

Mrs. Cynthla Leonard has written a letter ln which she says:

Miss Russell is not disposed to be dishonest. I think, however, she has come to the conclusion that honesty does not pay when she has dishonesty to contend with. Stre pawned her diamonds at Lindos for $300 and paid "God-chaux" that amount in advance. Every attempt was made to blackmail her by men who claimed to be of great importance. Diamond frauds were undertaken, and almost every one who came to her seemed bent upon extracting money. She at last came to look upon the commercial world as a legalized swindle. After leaving home she was soon convinced by Salomon and Stephens that there was no money in paying debte and much in sailing for Europe, especially as she had to defray the expenses of the entire party over.

If Miss Russell had not been a great attraction at the Casino, McCaull would never have given her $300 per week when he could fill the post for $100. McCaull hires his people especially to make money out of them, and never treats any one of them with civility who will endure incivility from him. He seems to forget that his people are white. Most of the young men whom he calls 'dudes,' who frequent the Casino, are stockholders in the McCaull Opera Company in a small way, having pald in a few hundred dollars, the dividend returned being an introduction to the women on the stage and a promise to make them solid with the same. Consequently those whom he can not manage easily he prono inces fractious and unmanageable. Mise Russell's popularity did not depend upon the young or old men of New York. She had as many admirers among women as men, and while she was ill last winter many of the baskets of fruit, flowers, wine came from ladies—some and of the finest ladies in the city. Her popularity came of real merit, and before she ever came to New York she sang classic and eperatio music that called forth criticieme in the Chicago papers that would have been flattering to a prima denna ln grand epera. I am not eurprised, hewever, that she is underrated now as she has done herself the injustice to sing nothing but Salomon's tracky music since her return to the stage, particularly in concert, where she should have rendered her best efforts to the public. She will probably see her mistake soon.

llad Miss Russell paid her oreditors now Salomon and Stephens could not have gone to Europe. However I think she will become wiser soon, and probably return to fill her engagements with Henderson and pay her bille and oostumers. When she sees fit to sing the class of music adapted to the pure quality of her voice the public will be again ready to acknowledge her

AN ELECTRIC BRAKE

Which Can Be Applied to Freig!

Cuicago, June 20 .- The Chicago Railway Exposition is proving of incalculable no vantage to the railroads of the country. The number of new and useful inventionexhibited has been simply astenishing. From 12,000 to 15,000 visitors have attended daily. Notwithstanding all this the press of Chicago has acted in a very sirange manner toward exhibitors who have expended time and money preparing for this exposition. Not a line has been published except that which has been puid for at high rates. This is in striking contrast with the enterprise of Cincinnuti and Louisville newspapers. When expositions have been held in these cities the newspapers have vied with each other in giving full reports of meritorious inventions.

There is no lack of material for this kind of work at Chicago. Take, for instance, simply the west wing of the Annex Building, where the Westinghouse Signal Switch System, controlled by electricity, finds a strong competitor in the American l'non-matic System of Boston. Here, too, among other things of great value, is to be found an invention which has developed an entirely new and practical ase for electricity -the Waldumer Electric Brake for railway cars, either passenger or freight. A train, one-fourth size cars, is daily run with a small locomotive, on a track 200 feet long, and the brakes appled by cleetricity. It is the invention of A. L. Duwelins, of Cincinnati, Ohlo, and is a continuous brake system under the control of the engineer on the locomotive, and operated by him exactly as the air-brake new is, the electric current, generated by a dynamo machine on the locomotive, being sent along wires stretched the whole length of the train, with preper couplings, instead of forcing compressed air through tubes. The apparent advantages are, no danger of lenkuge, a more uniform application, every brake-shoe throughout the train feeling the influence of power at the same instant of time, and also, since a current of electricity can be carried as far as a wire can be stretched, that any length freight trains can be controlled by the engineer. In passenger curs the stop is automatic, in case of semuration of the parts of the train. In theight cars there is a storage cell placed in the caboose, which enables the conductor to handle the train from the rear, in case of necessity.

Should there be a separation of the cars of a freight train a bell rings in the locomotive to notity the engineer, and one for the onductor in the cuboose. Not one line has appeared in any Chicago newspaper about this wonderful invention, except in the Railway Review, and yet this part of the Exposition building is literally jammed with interested xuminers whenever the train is put in operation.

Important and Probably True.

Washington, June 20 .- A reporter on the Washington Republican has had a spicy interview with Postmaster General Gresham.

"General Gresham, I am told that from two to three-tenths of the newspapers mailed by private citizens never reach their destination. How do you account for it?" said the correspondent to the l'estmaster General.

"You surprise me by the statement. As you have interviewed me several time since I came to Washington, let me interview you. How do you get your information about newspapers?"

"From talking to a great many people, and from personal experience. In my business I am necessarily compelled to send off quite a number of newspapere. I knew that at least one-third of them never reach the parties to whom they are mailed." "Well, what do you think is the rea-

"I attribute the failure to the gross carelessness of the postoffice officials. A newspaper in their mlnd is a very small thing, and it is handled accordingly. It the address is in the least unintolligent, no offort is made to decipher it, and it is tossed on the floor, and if the wrapper happens to be torn it shares the same fate. Then I believe that as a general rule postmasters and clerks have no conscientious scruples in tearing open and reading any paper they please that passes through their

Ex-Alderman John J. Kelly Shoots James Toal With Probable Fatal

CINCINNATI, June 20 .- Ex-Alderman John J. Kelly, who has figured in a number of shooling serapes, especially at election times in this city, used his gun again last evening, and this time it is a pretty sure thing that he has succeeded in com itting

Last evening at 6 o'clock Kelly was standing on the outside of the curbstone, a few feet east of the Gift's engine-house, on Sixth street, near Vine, where the primary election for Precinct A, of the Ninth Ward, was being held. He was talking to somebody, when James Toal came up and, playfully grabblug Kelly's hat off, placed it on his own head. Kelly, with an oath, made a snatch for the hat, and obtaining it, told Toal to let the hat alone. Woods followed, when Kelly went out into the street, drew a large revolver, and shot Tout, the ball pass ag through the man's left arm and entered the body. Dr. Judkins pronounced the wound necessarily fatal, as there was an internal hemorrhage.

Delectives Mead and White and Officer Smallwood took Kelly to the Central Station and locked him up on the charge of shooting with intent to kill.

Kelly spent the night in the station house. Bond was denied. Kelly's wife and several of his friends visited him in the station house, and a fine supper was sent him, which he are as though nothing worried him.

At 2 o'clock this morning Toal was sleeping-probably never to wake again.

THE agents apppointed to advertise the coming Cincinnati Exposition have sent to the Bulletin matter that measnres eight inches of space with the modest regiest that we will print it for one month for the compensation of fifty cents a week, or two dollars in all. It occurs to us that the proprietors of the Cincinnati show are exhibiting a decidedly mean disposition in dealing with the press of the neighborhoods from which they expect a considerable part of their patronage, and are running on very narable to pay and ought to pay full value for their advertisements and will do it if they expect to use the columns of the BULLETIN.

Tue Washington correspondent of the Enquirer says: It is understood that the consolidation of Internal Revenue districts in Kentucky will be so arranged as to dispense with a near relative of Exto-rs, who is musically accomplished. Secretary Blaine. While the schedule has not yet been definitely announced it is said that the plan proposed for Kentucky includes the abolition of the Maysville office and transfer of its territory to the Covington and Lexington. John Blaine, who has been the Collector at Maysville, is a near relative of the Ex-Secretary of State, and comes from the section of the State where several members of the Blaine family resided, and where James G. taught school in earlier years. The Maysville collectorship pays $2,750 per year, with some extras, and like Conkling's rubber band, " was about all the Ex-Secretary expected to get out of this Administration."

An Artistic Japanese Thief.

One morning, having risen earlier than usual, I took my seat by the grated window of my chamber and watched the pussers. Presently, a gentle-faced old ludy, followed by a dog, came in light, they were thus employed, a kumi-kudzuhiori stealthily approached, and after striking the dog upon the head, picked up the insensible creature with his sticks, with the contents, then coolly proceeded o examine some rubbish deposited by the way side. In a few moments the old lady missed her pet and began to call for tinued his occupation in an unconcerned manner, as though guiltless of the theft. "Have you seen my beautiful little dog?" inquired the woman, regarding

"Dog, dog?" he answered, bowing servilely. "Honorable lady do you take me for a thief?"

"Yes; I believe you have stolen him." she indignantly replied. "I suppose you want to make a few cash by turning his heautiful skin into a drumhead.'

"Honorable lady, you are indeed miscrippled, as he is a very large, robust tiken," murmured the rased, shifting looking darkey, and I notice gets about the basket to his back, crouching to the very well. I think any mau, white or ground and bowing his head. "Although I am only a miserable kami-kudzu-hiori, black, that wou't readily accommodate I am strictly honest. Graft, Bennett & Co., of Pittsburg. Ask an Extension.

PITTSBURG, PA., June 20 .- It is authoritatively announced that Graff, Bennett & Co., iron manufacturers of this city, have called their creditors to meet to lay and will ask for an extension. They will offer to pay one-third of their liabilities in installments of three, six andnine months, and the balance in three years, with ample security. It is considered reasonably certain that the extension will be granted. Their liabilities are $1,550,000, the assets about $2,000,000, exclusive of the real estate, which is worth over $1,000,000, and is believed to be unincumbered.

General Charles Ewing's Death,

Washington, June 20 .- General Charles Ewing died of pneumonia at 1:45 this morning, at his residence in this city General Ewing was a brother of General Thomas Ewing, and served through the war on General Sherman's staff. He was attacked with pneumonia on Friday last, and began to sink rapidly yesterday afternoon: He was unconscious at the time of his death. Mrs. General Sherman and General Thomas Ewing were among those present at the last moment.

Rev. Father Wilds EXPERIENCE.

The Rev. Z. P. Wilds, well-known city missionary in New York, and brother of the Into eminent Juilge Wilds, of the Mussachusetts Supreme Court, writes as follows:

setts Supreme Court, writes as follows:

"78 E. 54th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

Messas, J. C. Aver & Co., Gentlemen:
Last winter I was troubled with a most uncomfortable itching humor affecting more especially my limbs, which itched so intolerably at night, and burned so intensely, that i could searcely bear any ciothing over them. I was also a sufferer from a severe catarrh and catarrhal cough; my appetite was poor, and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of Aver's Sausarakilla, by observation of many other cases, and from personal use in former years, I began taking it for the above-named disorders. My appetite improved almost from the first dose. After a short time the fever and Itching were aliayed, and all signs of irritation of the skin disappeared. My catarrh and cough were also cured by the same means, and my general health greatly improved, until it is now excellent. I feel a hundred percent stronger, and I attribute these results to the use of the Sausaranlla, which I recommend with all contidence as the best blood medicine ever devised. I took it in small doses three times a day, and used, in all, less than two bottles. I place these facts at your service, hoping their publication may do good.

Yours respectfully.

Z. P. Wilds." publication may do good. Yours respectfully,

The above instance is but one of the many censtantly coming to our netice, which prove the perfect adaptability of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to the cure of all diseases arising from impure or impoverished blood, and a weakened vitality.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla cleanses, enriches, and strengthens the blood, stimulates the action of the stomach and bowels, and thereby enables the system to resist and overcome the attacks of all Scrofuleus Diseases, Eruptions of the Skin, Rheumatism, Catarrh, General Mebility, and all disorders resulting from poor or cerrupted blood and a low state of the system. PREPARED BY
